The Beaufort Scale

Beaufort No. & Description	Wind mph	Visual signs	General effect on kites
0 Calm	< 1	Smoke rises vertically	Kites only fly with assistance
1 Light Air	1 – 3	Smoke drifts	Only suitable for light weight kites
2 Light Breeze	4 – 7	Leaves rustle, wind felt on face	Good wind for experienced fliers
3 Gentle Breeze	8 – 12	Small twigs move constantly, flags flap	Excellent wind for beginners
4 Moderate Breeze	13 – 18	Dust & loose paper move. Branches move	Better for medium sized kites
5 Fresh Breeze	19 – 24	Small trees & large branches sway.	Breakages can occur to larger kites
6 Strong Breeze	25 – 31	Large branches move. Wind whistles around wires	Limit for most fixed wing kites
7 Moderate Gale	32 – 38	Whole trees move.	Power kites only with experience

Safety and The Law

Always read and follow the instructions with your kite before attempting to assemble or fly it. Do not exceed the manufacturer's recommended wind range, and only fly in light, steady winds until fully competent. Strong, gusty conditions cause kites to fly faster, pull harder and become unstable and difficult to control. This may result in line breakage, crashes and damage to your kite. The internationally recognised Beaufort Scale below gives a general guide for kite fliers. All prices and technical information are subject to change. Recommendations for wind range and flying lines are given as a guide only. Whilst every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information contained, we cannot be held responsible for anything as a result of errors or omissions.

Never fly near power lines, roads, buildings, railways or hazardous terrain

Never fly in stormy weather or a thunderstorm

Never fly within 5km (3 miles) of an airport

Never fly a kite higher than 60m (200 feet)

Never steer a kite at animals, humans or objects

Always act with consideration for others and the environment around you

Power & Traction Kites

These kites are designed for speed and traction, and should be used with caution. Beginners should start with smaller power kites and only progress to larger sizes when competent. Smaller kites are faster, and better suited to stronger winds. Larger kites are generally slower, more stable, and suitable for lighter winds. Information and recommendations regarding size, wind range & flying lines are given as a guide only. Choice of flying lines depends upon usage, skill level, wind conditions and body weight. Where applicable, prices are given for kite only and kite with line set & control gear.

Entry-intermediate budget traction kite. Produced in the same factory as Ozone kites. Incl. Dyneema lines, quad handles, safety system & backpack.

All-round power kite with low lift for recreational/buggy/board/snow traction. Easy to manage and ideal for learning with. Good quality accessories include Dyneema quad lines, handles, kite killers, ground stake, manual and backpack.

Entry to Intermediate power kite with higher aspect ratio than Hornet. Easy handling with increased speed & lift for jumps. Ideal for buggy and board use. Good quality accessories include Dyneema quad lines, handles, kite killers, ground stake, manual and backpack. Available with handles or bar.

Designed specifically for buggy traction, the Viper has almost no sideways pull, no lift, but exceptional upwind performance. Good quality accessories include Dyneema quad lines, handles, kite killers, ground stake, manual and backpack.

Part of the Peter Lynn Pro-Range, the Reactor has been developed for the more demanding riders seeking performance and quality. This medium aspect design produces serious speed with low lift in a buggy, on a landboard or in the snow, and remains extremely easy to manage and stable. Good quality accessories include Dyneema quad lines, handles, kite killers, ground stake, manual and backpack.

Part of the Peter Lynn Pro-Range, the all-round Core has been designed for serious buggy/board/snow traction. The quick manoeuvrability and smooth flying speed make the Peter Lynn Core fun and challenging to fly. Good quality accessories include Dyneema quad lines, handles, kite killers, ground stake, manual and backpack. Available from April 2009.

All-round freestyle twinskin kite for wave riding with big air jumps. The Peter Lynn Synergy flies faster, turns tighter and jumps higher than any other medium aspect ratio twinskin and has a slightly more aggressive flying behaviour compared to previous designs. Available as kite & backpack only or complete with 4-line de-power bar and safety system, 270kg flying lines & manual.

New entry level quad line kite with unique bar that splits to make separate handles. Introductory models produced in camouflage printed fabric.

Third generation for 2009 features updated graphics, improvements in fabric, line performance, trim adjustment & handles. Features dirt zip-outs, sleeved & sewn quick-adjust bridle. Includes 25m x 200/90kg Dyneema lines, quad handles with cleats, safety system, large nylon bag, compression strap, 2 x ground stakes, key ring strap, stickers & tags, sand bags, protection sleeves & manual.

Windsocks & Spinners

Windsocks and spinners do not fly or lift by themselves and all need to be attached to a pole or overhead support. Streamers, flags, windsocks and spinners are highly effective when used as 'line laundry' and make fabulous art in the sky when hoisted up on the line of a big lifting kite. They also add a very attractive and stabilising effect when attached directly as a drogue to the base of a kite.
